Message from Chair Neilander

As you know, the 2008 IAGA/IAGR International Gaming Law Conference will be held at the Rome Cavalieri Hilton in Rome, Italy from September 22nd through 26th and I am pleased to report that it will once again be very well attended. For those of you who have not yet registered for the conference, I encourage you to attend and take advantage of the opportunity to meet and exchange ideas with your fellow regulators and the IAGA attendees. You may register for the conference and book your hotel room by visiting our website at www.iagr.org.

Also, I would like to remind you that during the IAGR business meeting which will be held on Thursday, September 25th at 3:15 p.m. we will be soliciting input from the general membership regarding proposed revisions to our bylaws, including the process for electing members to the Steering Committee. If you would like to review the current version of the IAGR bylaws prior to that meeting, they can also be found on the IAGR website. Included in the registration materials you will receive in Rome will be a draft working document in respect of proposed changes to the bylaws.

Additionally, even if you are not planning to attend the upcoming IAGA/IAGR conference, please take a moment to visit the IAGR website in order to experience its "new and improved" look. Not only is it more dynamic and user-friendly, but, within the next several weeks, it will also become interactive with the addition of a "members-only" portal which will allow IAGR members to communicate directly with one another and post pertinent regulatory information which can be viewed by all IAGR members.

Finally, since this is the last newsletter that will be released during my tenure as the Chair of IAGR, in addition to extending my sincere appreciation to Vice Chair Wilsenach, Secretary Hensel, and the New Jersey Division of Gaming Enforcement for reformatting and enhancing the IAGR website, I would like to thank the members of the Steering Committee for their valuable input and assistance in developing the IAGR conference sessions and contributing to this year's newsletters.

I look forward to seeing many of you next month in Rome and if you have any questions or need further assistance, please do not hesitate to contact me at ccchair@gcb.nv.gov.
